Product Description

Engineered for durability and reliability, these weather-resistant cable ties are designed for outdoor applications where prolonged exposure to sunlight and harsh environments is a concern. Made from UL-approved flame-retardant nylon, they have enhanced UV resistance, extending their lifespan in demanding conditions. Their secure locking mechanism ensures a firm hold, making them ideal for bundling cables, securing wiring, and organizing equipment in industrial, construction, and outdoor settings. Built for long-term performance, these ties provide a dependable solution for both professional and everyday use.
