The kits come in a compact size Evolution case for easy storage and optimum portability. The kits also come with wall fixing bracket for better storage and easier identification of the kit. The kit identification label included with the kits helps recognise when the kit is missing or when it has been removed from its place. In addition, inside the case there are shelves to organise the content for immediate response in case of an emergency. Once on the bracket, the kit creates a self supporting workbench allowing the kit to be worked on. Refills are available to purchase separately
