

Control cabinets and panel build

Many thanks for clicking on this document, please let us introduce a small part of our offer supporting control cabinets and panel build.

Building control panels relies on being able to source great products - with high reliance on product availability

ABB products cover a large part of our Automation range. Key areas such as Motors, Inverters, Soft Starters, Contactors, Cam Switches, Circuit Protection, Industrial Switches, Pushbuttons are core to the offer, but did you know you can also find ABB Enclosures in our offer.

Adaptaflex flexible conduit systems are used to protect critical power and data cabling. Find a great range of conduit and fittings to complete your cabinet installations.

The Kopex-Ex line of high performance products have ATEX and IECEx approval for worldwide use, this includes metallic and non-metallic cable glands, plugs and kits.

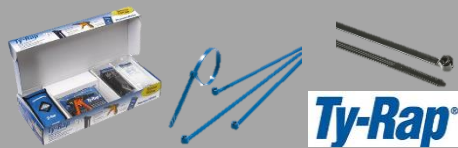

Furse surge protection devices cover signalling applications, protecting incoming and outgoing data lines, mains power supplies for providing protection to power distributions systems against direct or indirect lightning strikes.

PMA offers a large range of different conduit types, all aimed for the demands of industry. Extra Heavy Duty VOH conduits give high mechanical strength whilst Halogen free self extinguishing contractor packs contain conduit, fittings and locknuts.

Keeping everything tidy and secure is easy. With a great range of cable ties to complement your control cabinet build you really can source everything you need.

Here we have only been able to show you highlights from our ranges, remember that all this plus more is available for ordering today direct from stock

Configure quality cabinets from major brands you can trust – with all products available from stock

It's great being able to purchase all you need for your control cabinet from a single source.

With many choices to be made it can, at times be difficult, but RS are here to help make your selection easier, simply click on each logo and see their full range.

RS and in partnership with key brands

RS works with key brands to deliver quality products to A&C customers worldwide.

RS and key brands have been supporting A&C customers and their applications for many years. The combination of a first class logistics and supply chain operation with a world renowned product range benefits customers greatly.

With stock on hand and a delivery service second to none, whether it's breakdown or a new build, RS can ensure you receive products quickly and efficiently, wherever you are.

The RS and key brand partnerships continue to develop quicker routes to market, allowing early access to new and innovative product ranges.

Whether it's machine and panel building or maintenance and replacement, be sure that the RS and key brand partnerships are working for you.