The Powersaver Daily is a simple to use, multi application time switch. Although primarily used for the control of water heating, the PSD can also be used for a multitude of applications including the control of panel heaters, security lighting or combi boilers.

An electronic 24 hour controller which, in addition to providing the benefits of the Boost model, provides the ability to programme up to 3 operations per day. An LCD shows the time and status of the product and the memory reserve holds program information in the event of power loss.

One of the main benefits of the Powersaver Daily product is its standard size. This is common to all models, which fit directly onto a single gang patress box. This allows installation or upgrading from one model to another, quick and simple.
