Design your own High Impact Polystyrene case

With DesignSpark Mechanical, it's now possible to design and order the case you want, when you want.

Take your concept into full working reality, simply and quickly. It's easy, just choose your case type and its dimensions, then select from a range of hole cutters and begin. Use the functionality of DesignSpark Mechanical to build your unique case, save it and then order. Full bill of materials and costs are added during the design phase so you're always in control.
