Notice of Replacement

Hirose Electric has prepared new specifications for Micro-SD card connectors. New specifications are mechanically improved and will be standard in the future. We request all customers to design with new specifications for future projects. Regarding current projects which old specifications have been designed, we will continue to deal with old specification, but it is recommended to change to new specifications if modifications are not necessary at customer's application. After current projects are ended, old specifications will be discontinued. We regret any inconvenience that this may cause.
