Product Description

RS PRO Bench Grinder Stand

Need to sharpen your drill ends? This drill grinding stand from RS PRO provides a safe way to hold your drill ends in place for sharpening, so you can ensure the optimal performance of your tools.

The stand attaches firmly to your bench grinder on the side of the grinding wheel, keeping the drill ends secured and allowing you to position them precisely. You can adjust the hold using the bolt on the front of the stand, ensuring you can easily work around the drill helix.

This product can hold drill ends from 1/8 to 3/4 inches in size, so it's a versatile choice. As part of the RS PRO range, it has been tested for safety and reliability. It's commonly used in workshops, garages and other settings where you need to sharpen drill ends regularly.
