Product Description

Brought to you by RS Pro, this Quick-Fix galvanised steel trunking is the ideal solution for cable management where durability is a necessity. It features a rapid and fool proof method for securing the lid, by simply twisting turnbuckles through 90°. With the lid locked in place, the trunking provides full earth continuity between the body and lid. Constructed from high-quality galvanised steel, this cable trunking is ideal for environments where extra protection from potential impact may be required. All models are highly reliable and excellent quality.
