Product Description

A specialist's line of dedicated products, designed to specific needs seems to have a more significant advantage to support the project. The Silicone Spray can be used in commercial and domestic environments to act as an excellent lubricating, waterproofing and corrosion protection material. The spray is suitable to apply on most useable surfaces like metal, wood, plastic or rubber. The only thing that you should be aware of is the Silicone Sprays sticky nature for dust and dirt attraction. We are recommending applying the silicone sparingly and utilize for various things around your home. To make life a little bit easier and support unexpected daily events, you need fast-drying, odourless, non-toxic material for long-lasting protection. We are proudly introducing RS PRO Silicone Spray that acts as a versatile must-have product, which everyone should have in their garage or home.
